Why most companies lack Product Strategy

Execution disconnected from vision causing lack of impact and wasted resources

▶▶ Pushing Forces ▶▶

◀◀ Blocking Forces ◀◀

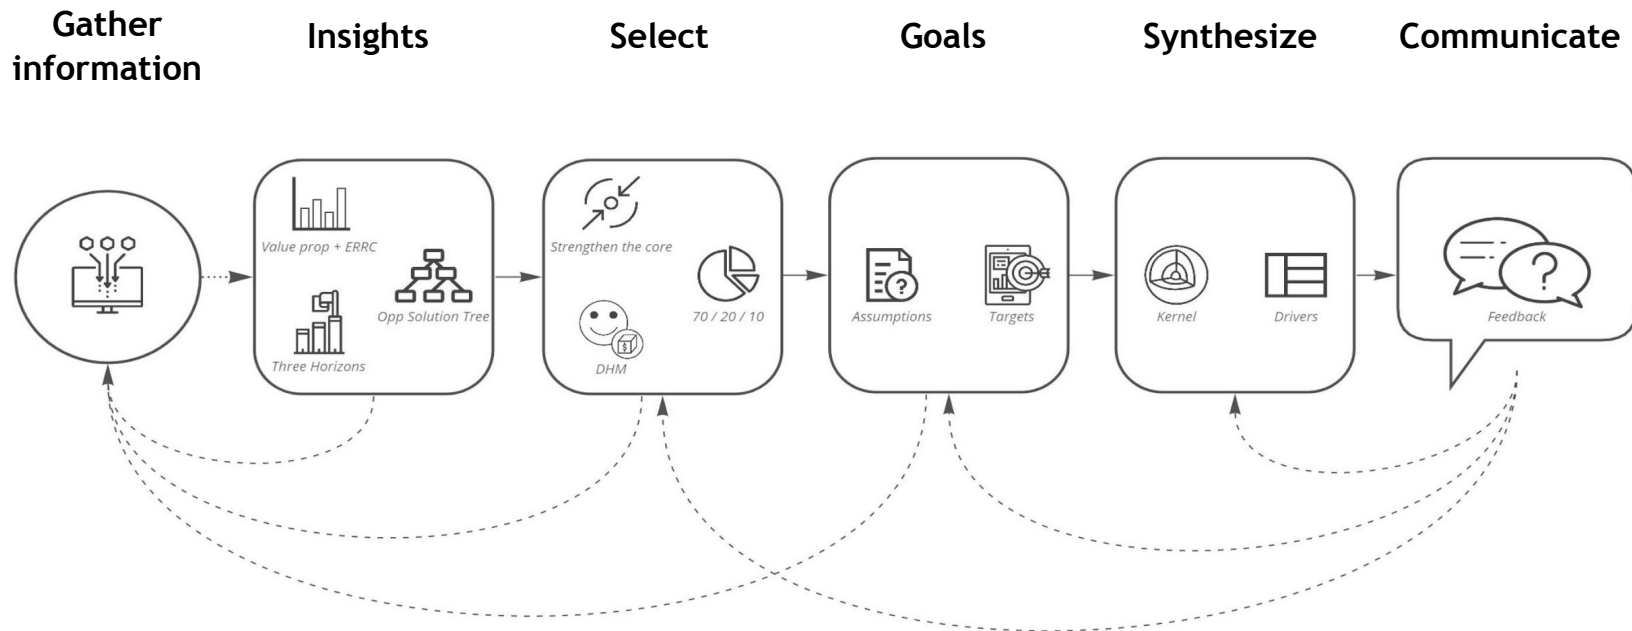

Lack of method, accountability, feedback loops.
Focus on tactical work.

Product Strategy in practice

Step 1

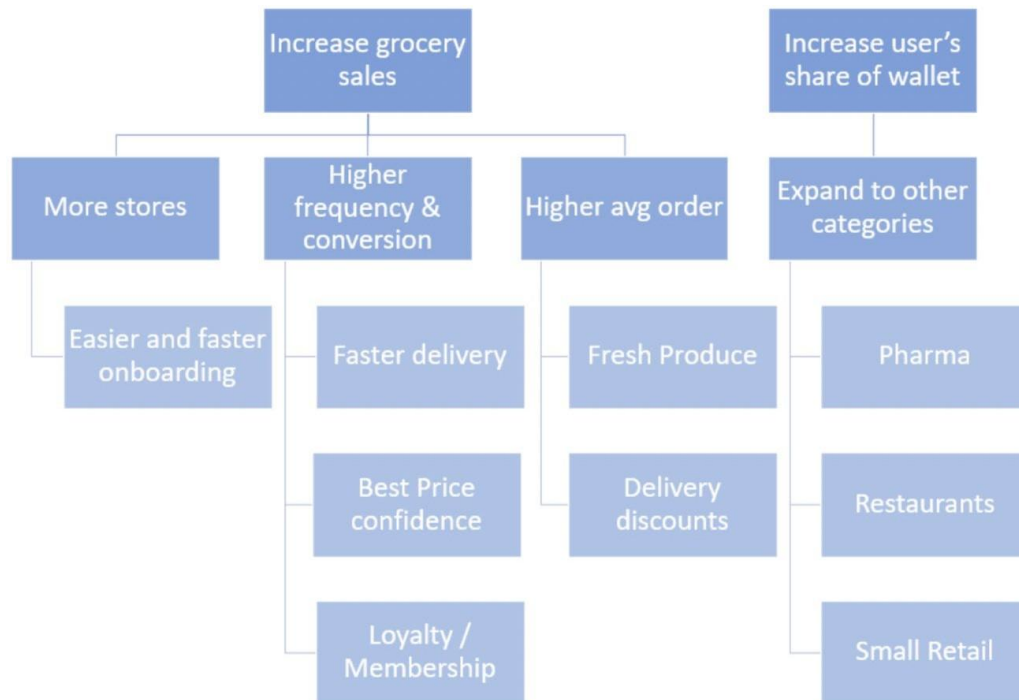

Insights

Insights are learnings: the identification of a problem, a tendency, or an opportunity that can radically change the game.

An insightless strategy is simply following a hunch.

Insights using Opportunity Solution Trees

Step 2

Select

Focus on the most promising strategic drivers and understand the tradeoffs of pursuing them.

Understand the market position we can achieve and defend with our strengths.

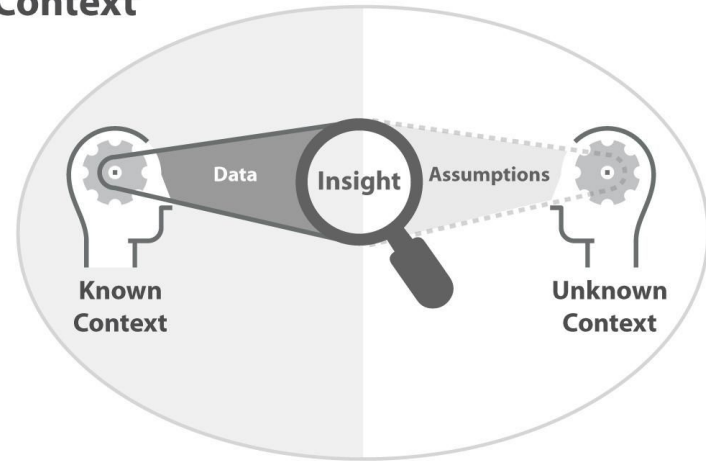

Step 3

Goals & Assumptions

Define the success criteria for your strategic drivers and make explicit the hypothesis and risks that you need to validate.

Context

What are the strategic goals and assumptions of our selection?

Opportunity	Goal	Assumption	Risk
Fresh produce	Increase average order value 10%	Users are willing to purchase fresh produce through app	H
Price comparison	Increase conversion 10%	Best price guarantee will convince price sensitive users	M
Easier store onboarding	Increase stores by 25%	Stores will want to self-onboard to the platform	M

Step 4

Synthesize

Make your strategy clear and memorable.

Reduce friction

Fresh Produce | +10% order value

Fresh produce is the top selling grocery product missing in our app. Reach new customers and increase items per order

Price comparison | +10% CR

Users search the same product in multiple stores and then drop. Guarantee best price selection to increase conversion.

Store onboarding | +25% stores

Store creation is limiting our grow. More stores require to work with us than what we can support with our current process

Executing your strategy

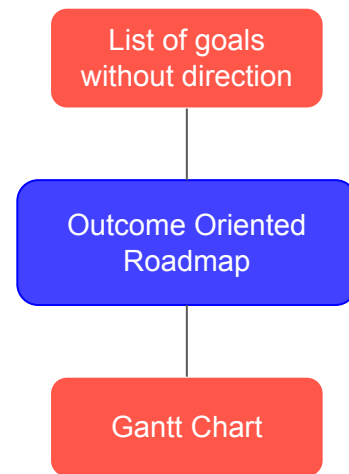

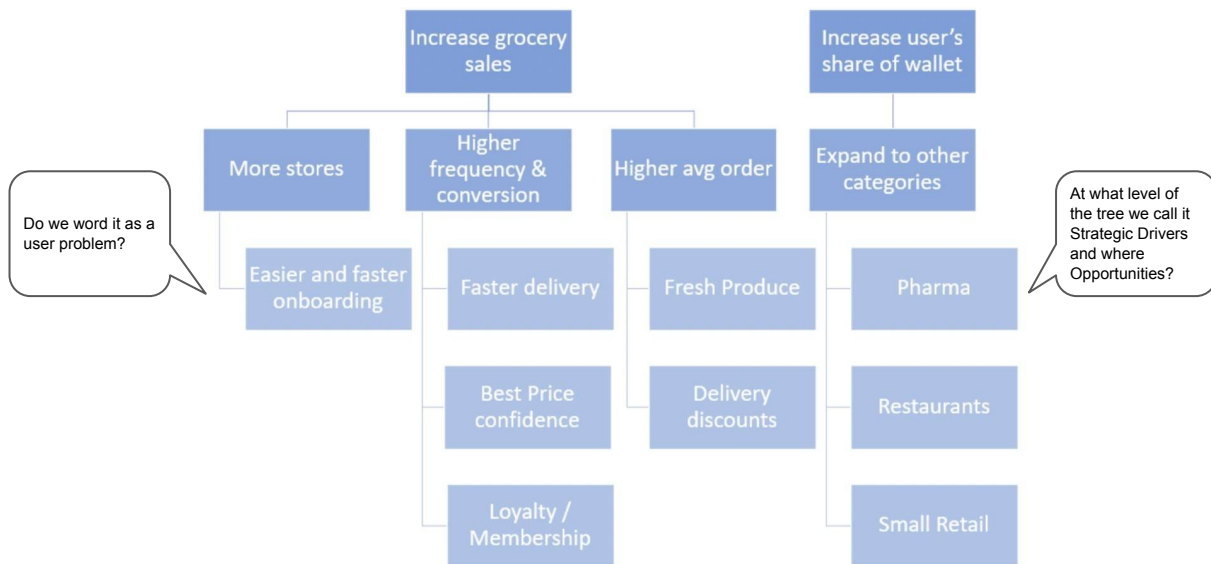

You are probably already doing some of it...

You just call it differently
